

Joel was asked to present some usefull information on World War II in History class and thus he was in library after school. Meanwhile his friend Frank arrives

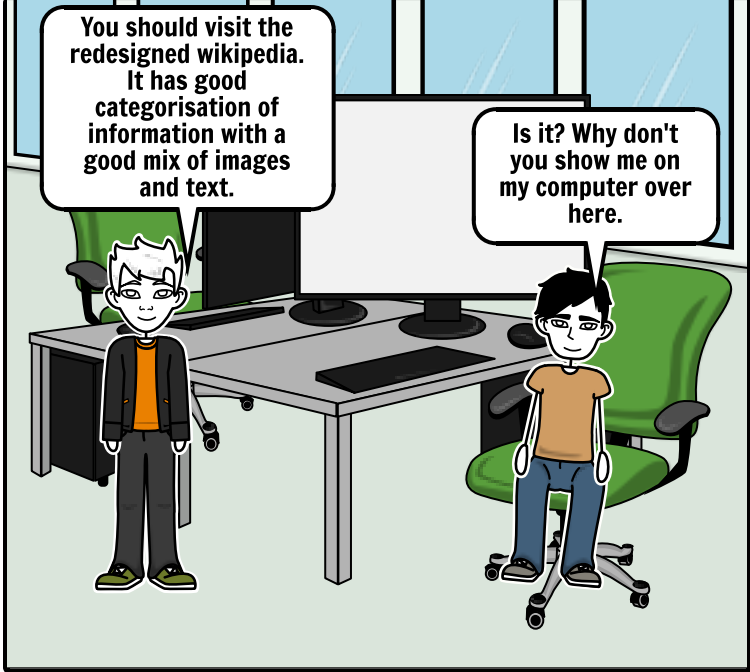

Frank ask's Joel why he could not come for which Joel has an explanation.

Frank ask's Joel if he is using Wikipedia to get the information.

Frank then ask's Joel to visit the newly redesigned Wikipedia by some talented students of Boston.

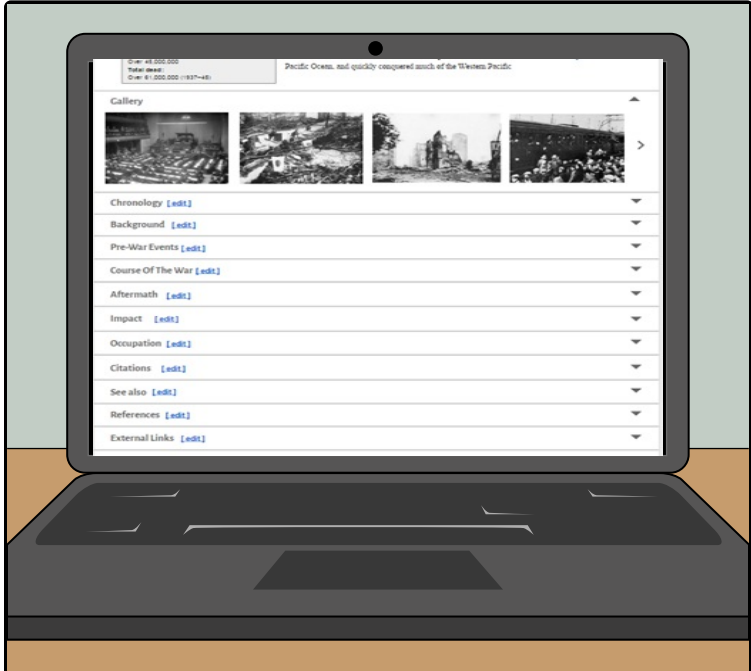

Frank visits wikipedia on Joel's desktop and shows him the different features that new Wikipedia has. Firstly the homepage is more lively.

Joel then searches for World War II and gets a very structured result for his search.

Joel then scrolls down to look at the different categories of information and he is very much impressed

Joel thus thanks Frank for the help and tells him to meet for the game.
